The Lust for Money.

Three hungry travelers found a bag of gold ; One ran into the town where bread was sold. Thought he, I will poison the bread I buy, And seize the treasure when my comrade die. And they, too, thought, when back his feet have hied, We will destroy birs and the gold divide. They killed him, and partaking of the bread, In a few moments all were lying dead. O world ! behold what thy goods have done ! Thy gold has poisoned two and murdered one.

Establishment offers superior inducements to the Traveling Public, and to those wishing a quiet home. It is situated in convenient proximity to the business center, and is conducted on the European Plan, giving its patrons the choice of obtaining their meals at the restaurant connected with the house, or elsewhere, as their convenience may suggest.

The Proprietor, who has been cagaged in this house since 1852, solicits a continuance of the putronage of his many friends, which, as heretofore, he will endeavor to merit by strict attention to their wants and comfort.
